BYLAWS
CENTRAL DISTRICT / DISTRITO CENTRAL
COUNCIL OF THE ASSEMBLIES OF GOD

(Adopted October 3, 2020)

HISTORY

The Assemblies of God began ministry to Hispanics in 1918, when the Texas / New Mexico District commissioned Henry C. Ball to develop ministry to Latinos wherever found. As a result, the Latin American Conference was formed in Kingsville, Texas and consolidated in San Antonio, Texas where it functioned until 1929 under the leadership of H.C. Ball. In 1929 the Latin American Conference was officially recognized as the Latin American District Council in the U.S.A. In 1939 Demetrio Bazan was elected Superintendent and moved the office of the LADC to El Paso, Texas. In 1953 the office was moved to Albuquerque, New Mexico where it remained until 1972 when the LADC dissolved and gave birth to four new Districts, which included the Central Latin American District Council.

The CLADC has its roots in three of the eleven conferences organized by H.C. Ball and Demetrio Bazan. In the 1930's the Colorado Conference included Colorado, Nebraska, Wyoming, Montana and Utah. In 1940, because of the growth of churches in Colorado, a second conference was formed: The Eastern Colorado Conference. A third conference called the Central Conference included New Mexico, Arizona and East Texas. In 1949 the Eastern Colorado Conference merged with the Central Conference. Utah and Idaho had become part of the Southern California Conference, but in 1951, Utah asked to become part of the Central Conference. In 1960 Jose Giron was elected Superintendent of LADC. The LADC grew under his leadership and as a result in 1971 he proposed dividing the LADC into four new Districts. Under his leadership the Midwest Latin District, the Gulf Latin District, the Pacific Latin American District and the Central Latin American District were recognized and began to operate as Districts in 1972.

The Central Latin American District Council was organized to serve the Hispanic Assemblies of God churches in the states of New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho and Utah. The Campgrounds in Chama, New Mexico were purchased under the leadership of Demetrio Bazan, Kenzy Savage and Rubel Benavidez in 1946 when the first 10 acres of campground were purchased for $4,000.00. Official camp-meetings began in 1949. The second 10 acres were purchased in 1969. The CLADC began operations in 1972 with offices in Albuquerque, New Mexico under the leadership of Superintendent Nestor Bazan. In 1973 the office moved to Salt Lake City under the leadership of Superintendent Frank Trevino. In 1993 the office moved back to Albuquerque under the leadership of Jose Leyva and in 2001 under the leadership of Superintendent Dennis Rivera a permanent office was purchased in Denver, Colorado.

In 2010 the Central Latin American District Council changed their name to Central District / Distrito Central Council of the Assemblies of God in order to reflect the reality of their bi-lingual churches and ministries.
